Annual Conference

75  Years

A Celebration of Sparkling Success

June 14-17, 2015

Louisville Marriott Downtown

Louisville, Kentucky

President's Letter

We hope that you will join us for our 75th Annual Conference at the Downtown Louisville, KY Marriott. During this Conference, we will celebrate SERC-NAHRO's milestone of proudly representing, advocating and providing training for Housing Authorities and Community Development Agencies for 75 years. The Conference theme is "75 Years - Celebration of Sparkling Success".

The 75th Anniversary Conference Committee has been planning for well over a year. The Committee, in collaboration with other SERC committees, has planned great educational sessions, which include events and displays representing the Associations seventy five years of existence. Members who have had an opportunity to preview the planned sessions and proposed agenda have commented that this will be the best training with the highest number of the best presenters that have ever been assembled for a SERC-NAHRO Conference or training session. Committee planning will continue up to the Conference on our most ambitious Agenda to date. It will showcase the accomplishments of our members, the Association, and the contributions to our industry. This will all take place in the City of Louisville, the location boast attractions like Churchill Downs, Muhammad Ali Museum and of course the Kentucky's Bourbon Trail.

Our 75th SERC Annual Conference at the Marriott in Louisville is a must for every member and I look forward to celebrating our Sparkling Success with each of you!

See you there!

SUNDAY NIGHT ENTERTAINMENT

"Southern charm with a whole lot of swag. Justin Timberlake meets Kentucky Fried Chicken."

The Acoustikats, founded in 1993 by Dr. Jefferson Johnson as a subsection of the University of Kentucky Men's Chorus, are the premier all-male cappella ensemble in the state of Kentucky. Without the strong support of the University of Kentucky Choral Department, widely known as a national powerhouse for male singing, this group would not be what it is today. This group of 12 young men has been featured on national television as a part of NBC's "The Sing-Off" a cappella competition and has performed in countless venues across the United States from the shores of Hawaii to the Azalea Festival in Wilmington, North Carolina. Following their success on "The Sing-Off" the Acoustikats decided to form a professional vocal band following the footsteps of notable all-male groups like Straight No Chaser. The group most recently partnered up with Sony Music for an upcoming Holiday album.

COMMISSIONERS

MONDAY, June 15th

9:00 am - Noon

Understanding Financial Statements and Basic Financial Responsibilities of Commissioners

Housing Authority Commissioners may not be aware of HUD-OIG. We will discuss steps to take in maintaining integrity at the public housing authorities, something the OIG is currently addressing. Topics will include common areas to look for fraud, waste and mismanagement. They will include:

- * Bookkeeping and accounting
- * Personnel and hiring
- * Procurement and contracts
- * Ethics and standards of conduct
- * Independent audits and HUD reviews
- * Charge cards

We will, also, be doing a "Financial Statements for Board Members 101". Several changes have occurred in the GASB financial reporting that will be covered and explained. We will, also, discuss the importance of HUD financial reporting in REAC with the Board at the year end, and monthly with regard to the VMS system. This is a great review for experienced Commissioners and a wonderful introduction for new Board Members.

Survival Fundamentals for Today's Workplace

In today's increasingly violent world, the need for survival skills should be a priority. Violence can occur in any environment, and we need to be ready - mentally and physically. This session focuses on developing both mental and physical skills needed for us to win in a violent or potentially violent situation. The material can be used whether or home, work or any setting. This class is tailored for everyone and is not physically demanding. During this overview, students will be exposed to the following fundamentals of personal safety:

- * How to develop a winning mindset
- * Choosing not to be a victim
- * Knowing your environment
- * Learning to listen to your intuition
- * How to recognize and minimize the effects of stress
- * Understanding the importance of body language
- * Recognizing aggressive behavioral cues
- * Common physical attacks
- * Defense techniques simplified
- * Weapon availability
- * Mental preparedness

COMMISSIONERS

TUESDAY, June 16th

9:00 am - 4:30 pm

Executive Management and Board Relations

NAHRO's Executive Management and Board Relations Seminar is one and half-day course. The course content focuses on identifying roles for governance and administration, identifying expectations and methods to achieve them, and building collaboration between the two groups to build a strong high performing agency that realize its mission. Both commissioners and agency executive and senior managers will gain valuable knowledge from this seminar, as well as learn about best practices on how to handle conflict effectively and problem-solve difficult situations for the best outcomes.

The course content delves into the delicate relationship between individual board members and the relationship between the board as a whole and the Chief Executive Officer/Executive Director and senior staff. The most successful organizations are ones where there exists a harmony of collaboration and mutual respect between the policy governance branch and the policy administration branch. Individuals participating in the Executive Management and Board Relations Seminar will learn the framework from which a strong highly effective organization is established and maintained.
